The Daily Union-Vedette.

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 14, 1866.

A Department on the Plains.

By private letters from Denver we learn that Major General Pope, while in that city, stated that he had recommended, to the military authorities at Washington, the formation of a military department with headquarters at Salt Lake City. He added that he did not think that any commander could do justice to our interests when he was stationed at such remote points as St. Louis or San Francisco.

This recommendation must have been prompted by disinterested motives on the part of Gen. Pope, as the adoption of it would curtail the influence of his own command.

The military commanders at St. Louis and San Francisco are among the most able officers in the United States army, but situated as they are, it is impossible for them to keep as thoroughly posted on our wants, and order necessary movements with that promptness that circumstances frequently require.

The States east of the Mississippi river, where there is hardly any need to be done except to fire salutes, on appropriate occasions, and where telegraph and railroad communication enable troops or information to be sent to any point with the greatest expedition, embrace several military departments. But here all of our Territories, any one of which requires as much attention from the military authorities as any one of the departments in the East, make up two out of the way corners of the Military Departments of the Missouri and the Pacific.

The suggestion, that Salt Lake be made the headquarters of the proposed department, is an excellent one. It is by far the most central point. From it troops can be sent north to Idaho and Montana, south to our Southern counties and the Territory of Arizona, east to Dakota and the Rocky Mountain region, and west as far as California, with greater ease and dispatch than from any other point.

Again, Utah being the greatest producing section on the Plains, troops can be kept here cheaper than in any other place in the Territories, while the numerous roads, that center at this city, furnish means to transport military stores to any given point with the greatest expedition.

We trust that the recommendation of Gen. Pope will meet that attention at Washington which its importance requires, and that before long we shall have, in this city, a good experienced Indian fighter with men enough under his command to extend ample protection to the miners, traders and farmers of the Territories while engaged in the laudable work of developing their immense interests.

COMMERCIAL STATISTICS.—From an abstract of the report of the Register of the Treasury on the commerce and navigation of the United States for the year ending June 30, 1865, we are enabled to present some interesting statistics relative to American commerce. The exports of all kinds for the period mentioned amounted in value to $396,306,758; while the value of imports shipped to the United States in American and foreign vessels was $234,437,467.

The report also shows that imports were admitted free of duty under the reciprocity treaty, to the value of $30,569,668 during the year ending June 30, 1865; the number of vessels entering and clearing were as follows: American vessels entering 8,324, clearing 8,434; foreign vessels entering 14,999, clearing 15,447. The following exhibits the number of vessels built in that year by the States referred to: New York 471; Pennsylvania 315; Maine 193; Ohio 138; Maryland 114; Massachusetts 80; Illinois 34; Virginia 34; New Jersey 96; Connecticut 39; Kentucky 30; Mississippi 21; Delaware 17; Florida 9; Michigan 31; New Hampshire 4; Oregon 4; and the District of Columbia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Wisconsin one each.—Washington Republican.

ROBBERIES IN WESTON.—A Border Times extra says that about half past eight o'clock on Monday, July 24, a young man was stopped on the street by two men who demanded his money. He refused to do so, and they proceeded to take it by force. He succeeded in getting away, but he had $11, left after returning him one dollar and passing on.

A short distance from where this scene was enacted, the ruffian met Dr. Beaumont, and placing two pistols at his head demanded his weapons. He replied that the only weapons he had was a pocket knife, and while drawing it from his pocket, one of the men struck him a tremendous blow over the right eye, and the other tried to get the Doctor's watch, but failed. They then decamped.

These outrages caused great excitement among the citizens, who armed themselves and pursued the ruffians, but got the trail. On their return, seeing a great many suspicious looking characters lounging about a house of prostitution, they determined with one accord to visit the community of that nuisance. They made short work of it by setting it on fire, and in a few minutes it was in ashes.

We learn that Wells, Fargo & Co. have started suits in New York against the shippers of that case of nitro-glycerine, for one hundred thousand dollars damages. To repair the building they occupied will cost twenty-five thousand dollars. Mr. John McManis, who made a survey upon a portion of the building, says that he had long seen signs of mischief, and that he had seen the hard coverings with which the walls are covered. How so many escaped through that shower of deadly missiles is yet a wonder.—Sacramento Bee.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE DAILY UNION-VEDETTE.]

GENERAL NEWS.

Chicago, July 12. Washington special to the morning papers say, a full caucus of Union members of Congress was held last night in the Representatives Chamber, Senator Morrill presiding. Garfield said the Postmaster General, Dennison, would resign to-morrow, because he could not endorse the President. He was asked for his authority and replied he spoke by the book. It was then asserted that three other Cabinet officers would resign within a very short time.

Washington, July 12. The Senate, by a vote of 22 against 12, referred the tariff bill to the Finance Committee, with instructions to report next December.

Foreign News.

Farther Point, July 11. The steamer, St. David, from Liverpool, the 28th, London, 29th, passed at 10.30 this evening.

Nothing is known of the ministerial arrangement except that the Queen has authorized Earl Derby to favor the ministry and promised her support. A meeting of the chief conservatives was to be held on the 28th, after which the Earl of Derby proceeds to lay before the Queen the result of the consultation.

Great Britain has published a proclamation of neutrality in Continental affairs. Of the situation in Bohemia, a Vienna telegram of the 28th says it is officially announced that at the battle near Salsitz the Prussians lost many prisoners and 18 guns. After the battle a Prussian major proceeded to the quarters of Marshal Benedek, under a flag of truce, to solicit an armistice, but the demand was refused.

A Cracow dispatch of the evening of the 28th says the Prussians made a fresh attack upon Oswantia, when they were repulsed with heavy losses. The Prussians destroyed the Cracow and Vienna railroads in several places, wholly interrupting Austrian communication with Valetta.

The Austrians entered Misalvitz on the 27th, but in the afternoon the telegraph station was again in possession of the Prussians.

A Berlin dispatch says the first Prussian army corps attacked the enemy at Frankfort at 11 a. m. The Austrians were driven back.

A Prussian telegram, dated Maitland, 28th, says an important battle, in which cavalry and artillery were principally engaged, had been in progress on that day. The Austrians were driven back from near Salsitz to Juerowitz. Three flags and many prisoners were taken. The loss on either side was unknown.

The latest London telegram of the 29th says the news is conflicting, both sides claiming advantages in the encounter on the 27th at Salsitz. No engagement is reported as having taken place since.

The Telegraph Company of Great Britain furnish the following additional particulars of the engagement at Custozza:

The left wing of the Italians was attacked at various points simultaneously, and crushed before the remainder of the army could come to its aid. After the battle the army of the Arch Duke advanced in pursuit of the Italian army, which up to that time had maintained its position. It was however driven from Valeggio and compelled to recross the Mincio. The Austrians also recrossed that river and taking position on Italian territory. The two armies then stood facing each other, the Italians at Viola and the Austrians five miles northward, at Sufferino, and it was probable that another engagement would be brought about.

The object of the Italian movement on Saturday was to withdraw the Austrians from the line of Poland and allow Cialdini to cross. The movement having failed, Cialdini remained on the south side of the river.

The reverses of Sunday, the 24th, have in no way disheartened the Italians.

New York, July 12. The steamer Persia from Liverpool 20th, and Queenstown July 1st, arrived this morning.

The war news is very contradictory. Both Austrians and Prussians claim the same battle field.

Berlin dispatches of the 29th say the Austrians were defeated on the 27th and 28th, near Nachod, by the first army corps, and on the 29th at Trantenau, by the corps of Life Guards, and at Munchengratz by Prince Frederick Charles at Trantenau. The Austrians are said to have lost 3 or 4,000 killed and wounded, the Prussians about 1,000. At Munchengratz, the Austrian losses are stated at 2,000. The Prussians claim to have captured about 8,000 prisoners, numerous trophies, guns, &c. There was great rejoicing at Berlin. The inhabitants presented an address and serenaded the King.

The Crown Prince of Prussia reports that in his engagement he had 22 battalions opposed to 28 battalions of Austrians.

The Hanoverian army, on the 20th, surrendered at discretion to the Prussians. The officers retained their side arms, and the men were disarmed and sent to their homes.

The whole Federal army at and near Frankfurt, was on the march, and a battle was anticipated.

The Italians have changed their plan of operations. There had been no further collisions in Italy. Garibaldi was at Lake Iro.

The English Parliament had adjourned till July 5th, at the request of Earl Derby, who is forming a Cabinet. He sought to obtain the support of the leading Whigs and Liberals who have sided against Russell and the Government, but failed, and a conservative ministry is expected. Threatening demonstrations had taken place in London among the lower orders, on the reform question.

The Great Eastern would sail from Shoerness on the 30th.

It is reported that France will not long remain quiet. An active intervention is reported already as agreed upon.

PARTIES IN ST. LOUIS are urging a charge of corruption against Governor Fletcher, in the matter of the sale of the Southwest Branch of the Pacific Railroad to General Fremont. It is stated that D. C. Freeman & Co., responsible firm in St. Louis, bid $1,300,000, and announced that they would go as high as $2,000,000 if necessary; but the road was awarded to Fremont at only $1,300,000. The Governor has not yet replied to the charge.

NEW COAL-MINES.—The following communication from Major Lyon, relating to certain newly discovered beds of coal recently examined in the immediate vicinity of this city, will be read with interest by all:

Great Salt Lake City, U. T., July 11th, 1866.

DEAR SIR:—From the examination I made of the country on the Weber river, and the examination I have recently made in the mountains northeast of this city, I conclude that the place of one of the productive and valuable coal beds of the country lies beneath a sand-stone, under immense beds of conglomerate.

The facts now in my possession and those by which I am influenced to decide that coal may be found in valuable quantities on the facts that good beds of coal have been found in this section of the rocks at Coleville, on Weber river, and probably in the same section at San Pete. The scarcity of fuel at this point and its consequent value and high price, would justify a very large outlay in examinations in the hills composed of the rocks forming the section in which coals are found in the neighborhood.

It is true the rocks here are very much tilted, and that a coal found would, by the dip of the rocks, soon be arrived to profound depths, yet in a bed of good thickness a vast amount of coal, in that part of the bed lying above the drainage, could be obtained. The coal once fairly opened, and the dip of the bed well ascertained, no great difficulty would be encountered in driving an adit in the body of the coal itself to some of the lower slopes of the hills, by which the accumulating water of the mine could be disposed of.

Frame ways to deliver the coal at the deposits prepared for it at the foot of the slope, and at a convenient distance from the city, would not involve any very serious expense.

The action of heat, probably in the form of sun-beated steam, has carried off an immense quantity of the more volatile carbonaceous matter from the coal of these hills, and the coal when found will probably partake of the character of the semi-bituminous or anthracite coals.

The evidences of a bed of coal in the hills will warrant a thorough examination to ascertain its position and quality. I am of the opinion the workings heretofore made are too high in the section, and that examinations should be made further toward the west and deeper in the rocks of the section.

I remain your ob'dt. serv't.

SINCE S. LYON.

Eastern Items.

Jeff. Davis declines to be carte de visite.

The Imperial family attend Professor Agassiz's lectures in Rio Janeiro.

The Confederate heroine, Belle Boyd, made her first appearance on the Manchester stage on Friday, June 1st, in the character of Pauline, in "The Lady of Lyons."

Gov. Morton's health is reported to be rapidly improving, and it is thought that he will entirely recover with the exception of a slight lameness.

The police of Chicago, Ill. recently made a sudden raid on the free concert saloons and low drinking saloons in that city, and captured about four hundred male and female persons. They were all taken to the station-house and locked up, in spite of the most pitiful entreaties.

A Washington letter says: "There seems to be but little value to money here. The cost of living is exorbitant. One member of Congress (Mr. Dodge, of New York, who ousted Brooks) with his family, servants and horses, lives at one of the hotels, and pays for his living one hundred and eighty dollars per day."

SOME officials individual asked Gen. Sherman to call on the members of the Southern Railroad delegation from South Carolina lately on a visit to Cincinnati, to whom the General replied, "Thank you, no; I did call on the gentlemen once, and I think it is their turn to call on me now."

VOLUNTEERS FOR THE AUSTRIAN ARMY.—A telegram from Mobile announces that an Austrian officer has arrived at that city, empowered to offer positions in the Austrian army to ex-Confederates. It is thought that quite a number will avail themselves of the opportunity to plunge again into the exciting scenes of war.

WHO DISCOVERED GOLD.—Cadmus is said to have been the first who discovered gold. Some authors attribute its discovery to Thoms of Thrace; others to Mercury, son of Jupiter; others to Ptolemy, King of Italy, who having left his country, went to Egypt, where he was chosen king after the death of Mizraim, and received the surname of God of Gold on account of his discovery. Others say that Eacis or Cacus, son of Jupiter, or Sol, son of Oceanus, was the first who discovered gold. Eschylus thinks that Prometheus not only discovered gold, but also other metals.

GOOD NEWS FOR MINERS.—We have good authority for stating that Mr. Herman, representative of the great copper smelting firm of Vian & Sons, who have no less than two hundred and fifty furnaces at Swansea, South Wales—recently arrived in this city to make personal inspection of some of our American copper ores. Having seen some of the ores from Colorado and tested the same, he pronounced the result satisfactory, and on the 14th June he left Atchison, Kansas, on his way to that land of buried riches. It seems that he is of the same opinion with Mr. Lyon, and others, that the only true way of reaching the precious contents of Colorado lodes is by smelting.—New York Journal of Mining.

MOVEMENT OF TRAINS.—The Herald reports the following trains as having passed Fort Kearney:

June 29.—Conductor: Hays; 33 ox wagons, 40 men, 30 revolvers, 32 guns; bound for Salt Lake.

Conductor: J. T. Cooley; 21 wagons, 32 men, 24 revolvers, 45 guns; bound for Denver, Col.

Conductor: Looy; 41 ox wagons, 35 men, 12 revolvers, 18 guns; bound for Salt Lake.

Mr. Grooley, who is getting fat, and is a hard worker, is noted for improving all his spare opportunities to sleep. He sleeps through his railway trips, and also sleeps in church, when he goes to that place of repose.

Star Daily Union Advertiser

Local and Miscellaneous.

TO ADVERTISERS. The Advertiser is the pioneer daily newspaper of Utah. Its location is every mining, camp, and city of Montana and Idaho, to which it gives the telegraphic dispatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers, makes it the most advantageous medium for advertising in these four central territories.

A negro was shot by a white man in the streets of Denver on the Fourth.

Attention is called to Major Skelton's advertisement of whisky for sale.

JAMES ROBINSON, the bare-backed rider with Lent's New York circus, gets an annual salary of $24,000.

A jury just impeached in New York represents seventy-five millions of dollars. Belmont, Astor, Stewart and others compose it.

A roof is in process of construction in Detroit, over the Michigan Central Depot, which will cover three hundred thousand square feet, or over seven acres.

The billiard tournament for the championship of Missouri took place on the 9th ult. A. H. Harrison, of St. Joseph, won the deciding game over O. J. Pierce, of St. Louis.

The Karny Herald announces that Brevet Brigadier General Weisels arrived there lately, and relieved Captain Ladd, himself assuming command, to date from Tuesday.

The Princess Mary was married in London on the 11th ult. to Francis Lewis Alexander Prince Von Teck, of Hungary, lately an officer in the Austrian service. The ceremony was unattended by stately pageantry or pomp.

TIN ORE IN MAINE.—A company of Eastern capitalists, known as the National Tin Mining Company, with their office at No. 64 Broadway, New York, has been organized to work a tin mine in Oxford county, Maine.

The Atchison Free Press of the 30th ult. says, Colonel Chibington left this evening for Nebraska City, where the wife and children of his deceased son reside, from whence he will proceed at once to Salt Lake City, returning to Atchison about the first of September.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The afternoon exhibition of the Panorama yesterday drew out a large audience of the little ones, with a sprinkling of older heads, all of whom were delighted with the entertainment. We were not able to attend the exhibition last evening, but we presume it gave the usual good satisfaction.

The Panorama will not be exhibited again until next week.

The Austrian commander, General Denedek, has issued an order bearing especially upon newspaper correspondents. He says that he shall in no way tolerate, either at headquarters or with other commanders of corps, paid or unpaid newspaper correspondents, either military or civil; and he requests the commanders to see that no one belonging to the army lends himself to supplying articles destined for the journals, unless he has received a mission to do so from the Government.

GOLD, IRON AND COAL.—According to the census of 1880, the product of the gold mines in the United States amounted to $47,163,170. The product of the coal mines, $20,243,637; iron, $3,370,120—the gold product being more than equal in value to both coal and iron. Owing to the increased area of the gold fields of the Pacific coast during the past five years, the interruption in the manufacture of iron, and increased cost of labor in the coal mines, consequent on the derangements produced by the war, during the same period, it is safe to estimate the yield of the precious metals during 1886 at double that it was in 1880; while the produce of iron and coal will probably not more than equal the value that of 1880.
